

Weekly benefit award

'Award' means what we can pay you. This is the amount of benefit you'll get before any deductions.

Net benefit payable

This is the weekly amount of benefit you will get.

Weekly gross rent/council tax

This is the total amount of rent / council tax that your benefit is based on.

This will be paid on

This is the date you or your landlord will receive your benefit. If we owe you money, you may receive it earlier than this date. If you are a council tenant the benefit will be credited to your rent account.

Your weekly earned income

Your earnings shown as a weekly figure after deductions for tax, National Insurance and half of any pension contribution.

Any other income

This means all other types of income, including tax credits, child benefit, state benefits, private pensions. They're added together and shown here.

Disregarded income

We ignore some income when we work out your benefit, for example disability living allowance, child benefit, attendance allowance, maintenance.

Expenses

When calculating your entitlement some expenses like Child Care Costs or Private Pension Contributions can be deducted from your earnings

Overpayment recovery

If you have an overpayment of housing benefit, we may recover this from your ongoing entitlement. The amount shown is the weekly amount we're taking from your housing benefit entitlement.

Amount you must pay weekly

If applicable, this is the amount of rent you need to pay from the date the benefit starts on.

Non-dependant deductions

This is money taken off your benefit because you have other adults, apart from your partner, living in your home.

Your partner's weekly earned income

Your partner's earnings shown as a weekly figure after deductions for tax, National Insurance and half of any pension contribution.

Applicable amount

This is the figure that we must use as the amount needed for day-to-day living expenses. It's dependent upon your household circumstances.

Assumed income from capital

We must assume you have an income from money in bank accounts, savings or investments.

The amounts we have to assume are fixed, and based on your total savings and capital.
