Foreword by Council Leader

Our vision is a happy, inclusive and sustainable community. To help us deliver this, alongside our core services, our five areas of high priority are to:

Combat the climate emergency

Deliver more social housing

Support our local economy

Enhance the District's cultural offer

Promote equality, inclusion, and fairness

St Albans District is a place of warm welcome, community spirit, and public services we can be proud of. The Council and our partners have invested in local facilities in recent years, and we have a wide range of excellent leisure, sports and cultural centres, award-winning parks and green spaces, great transport links and the backdrop of a Cathedral city and historic town and villages steeped in heritage, yet modern and vibrant too. We are indeed fortunate.

Yet, as this Council Plan is being prepared, we face critical financial pressures and a challenging economic climate. A recent survey by the District Councils' Network, a cross-party network of 168 district and unitary councils, found that 96% of councils expected to see demand rise for temporary accommodation and Council Tax Support, over which we have no control. Many councils surveyed indicated that they will need to make efficiency savings in statutory services to be in a position to set a balanced budget. We share that need. We continue to make tough choices about our spending and how we operate to address the gap in our finances. This is resulting from global, national, and regional challenges; pressures such as those mentioned above; the rise in the cost of energy; the impact of high inflation; rising costs in supply chains; high interest rates; the drop in the commercial rented sector; and spending constraints from central government.

We need to spend every penny of public money wisely, and ensure we focus on the most important things. Our five priorities are set out below.

Combat the Climate Emergency

The Council's Sustainability and Climate Crisis Strategy, developed with Sustainable St Albans, St Albans Friends of the Earth, and other environmental and community groups, sets out the actions we will take locally to achieve our net zero carbon emissions target by 2030.

Our developing Local Plan – the framework for future development over the next two decades – has climate change and sustainability as its key focus. We have made huge progress with this over the last year and hope to have it fully agreed by the planning inspectorate in 2025. Once adopted, our Local Plan will help us to manage the inevitable changes we face carefully and thoughtfully, respecting the past yet planning for the future too.

Through community leadership, partnership, and active encouragement we are helping to develop the infrastructure improvements we want to see in our District. An example is our work with the County Council to make walking and cycling safer and attractive to those who want to reduce their reliance on cars. This is important to ease congestion, improve air quality and reduce carbon emissions.

St Albans District is one of the best performing local authority areas for recycling in England and, with the support of local residents, we want to ensure we maintain our strong position.

Deliver more social housing

We want to ensure that homes are warm, dry and energy efficient: this is the right thing to do for tenants and leaseholders and of course also recognises that we can and should play our part in combating climate change. By 2030, all Council-owned homes will be carbon net zero* ready for when the grid becomes fully carbon neutral.

Many local people find they cannot afford to buy or rent here. The Council is striving to ensure additional new homes are provided for social rent. For example, Jubilee Square - built on the site of the old police station - has reshaped an important part of St Albans city centre and is providing 93 new homes for social rent and shared ownership.

*Note: Carbon net-zero - by this we mean adopting 'fabric first' measures on existing housing stock (carefully considering the design and construction of a home to lower its energy consumption), including insulation, LED lighting, solar panels, energy efficient windows and doors, and - where feasible - heating that will supply more than one location (known as 'district heating') using renewable energy sources. The Council will look to replace gas boilers with renewable energy heating systems as the grid is decarbonised and energy costs become affordable.

Social housing is delivered in various ways: through the planning system, through local authority owned housing including Council-led development, and through partnerships using direct investment and joint ventures. In the current economic downturn, the Council is especially alert to changes in the construction market and is seeking innovative ways to deliver housing and community programmes, successfully attracting external funding to do so.

We are also transforming processes to reduce turnaround times for dealing with empty Council-owned properties so families in need can be housed more quickly.

We will continue to support people facing homelessness through our dedicated support services. We are also mindful of the needs of refugees and visitors from Ukraine and will continue to work with our partners to support them.

Support our local economy

We know the challenges facing business owners – the high cost of housing, staff and skills shortages, the inequitable business rates system, and high energy costs among them. While these things require Government action at a national level, we can play our part locally.

Broadly, we do this by ensuring that the District remains a great place to live with first class leisure, recreation, and entertainment opportunities, backed by a clean environment and a welcoming community. Together this helps business recruitment and helps deliver, via resident and visitor footfall, customers to our many thriving service industries. We will continue to work with transport authorities to improve the ways that people can move around the District, as well as in and out of it.

Specifically, each year we hold our District Business Summit to bring local business owners and managers together to discuss the local commercial environment and hear back from our community on the matters that concern them.

Our Charter Market is growing and going from strength to strength after the ravages of the pandemic, bringing in footfall to the main shopping areas, giving traders a strong base from which to trade, and boosting the vibrancy of the City Centre. The Market was recognised in the Great British Markets Awards 2024 as the Best Large Outdoor Market in Britain – something we can all be proud of.

Enhance the District's cultural offer

Knowing the importance of cultural life and how it enriches residents and businesses both socially and financially, we are exploring ways to capitalise on our District's strengths and develop our potential.

Meanwhile, we continue to support the District's cultural and community infrastructure, the latest developments being The Eric Morecambe Centre in Harpenden, and our Sopwell Community and Cycling Centre in St Albans. Work to preserve and enhance the beautiful Victorian Cricket Pavilion in Clarence Park is our most recent refurbishment.

Promote equality, inclusion, and fairness

The composition of our community is ever-changing, and, while our traditions remain important, diversity undoubtedly enriches life locally. Tolerance, kindness, and a sense of belonging are what underpin community spirit.

The Council plays a key role in community leadership and place-shaping, and we believe equality, diversity and inclusion should be central to local service delivery. Our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion strategy sets out how we will make sure these are central to our approach in delivering services and conducting our day-to-day business.

Foreword by Chief Executive

Local residents expect and deserve value for money, efficient systems, and easy access to public services. The Council continues to develop, both as a modern organisation and as a focus for community development, despite the considerable financial challenges we face.

Over the last two years we have reshaped many of our services to make them fit for the digital age. By upgrading our digital parking services, for example, applications and payments are quicker and easier for residents, who increasingly expect access to services 24/7.

We have been successful in recent years in attracting inward investment funding to help us develop our services, provide energy efficient measures to Council-owned homes, and take forward our work to tackle the climate emergency.

Our structure has been redesigned to streamline and modernise the Council's operations, so they are more efficient and cost effective, and improve services for residents, businesses and visitors.

Last year we introduced a number of shared services with neighbouring councils – our legal, planning enforcement, and audit teams, for example, are now all shared services, providing additional resilience and efficiency. More shared services will follow over the next five years as we develop and extend our partnerships.

We continue to challenge ourselves to ensure we are at the leading edge of service development, benchmarking against other councils and developing our use of data to drive improvements and efficiency. In turn this is releasing the resources we need to continue to support those who still need more traditionally delivered services.

Our values and behaviours – caring for our community, working together, developing confident people – and our desire to be driven by the needs of local people and trusted as individuals and as a Council, are characteristics underpinning all our work. As we prepare this Council Plan, the Council has been named as the winner of the 2023 Local Government Chronicle's Workforce Award in the Best Next Generation Employer category for our entry 'Growing our own - bringing in and bringing on talent'. Our Local Government Association Peer Challenge this year – where we hosted a team comprised of senior leaders from other councils to look at how we operate and make recommendations for the future - commended the Council on its work in bringing in and developing graduates. In their report they said that 'the level of responsibility given and opportunities available to graduates is impressive'.

Many local people and businesses were hit hard by the pandemic and have been dealt a further blow with the increase in the cost of living. They continue to need additional support in greater numbers than before. Our teams work hard to ensure local people are supported, for example through our work with those facing homelessness and debt. Keeping people safe is also a focus through our community resilience and CCTV operations and our regulatory framework. Last year, for example, we introduced new regulations to ensure taxi drivers are obliged to accept credit cards, as well as cash payments, so people can get home safely after a night out.

Our strong partnerships with third sector organisations are also helping to build the capacity needed to deliver in challenging circumstances. And with our partner councils, we are playing a central role in planning for the future growth of Hertfordshire and delivery of important climate change objectives.
