Dear Sir

I object to TARMAC wanting to build on the High Street of Colney Heath St Albans.

Traffic will constantly be at a standstill. Noise levels will be too high. One road in & out of the village will be gridlocked constantly.

Even of building commences, how will the children at the School manage to concentrate ? We do not have doctors or a dentist & only have a small shop for basic necessities.

Between the hours of 8.30am when parents dropping kids off to school & then 3pm to collect road is gridlocked already.

The High Street road will not cope with the extra additional traffic.

Yours sincerely

Wendy Gardner
